LOCATION

Dingwall is a historic market town situated in the Highlands of Scotland, approximately 15 miles northwest of Inverness, the regional capital. The town lies at the head of the Cromarty Firth and benefits from good transport links, with the A835 connecting directly to the A9, the main arterial route through the Highlands to Inverness, Perth and the Central Belt. The town is on a regular bus route and has a railway station on the Far North and Kyle of Lochalsh lines, providing direct services to Inverness and onward connections to the national rail network.

Tulloch Street lies within the heart of Dingwall town centre, connecting directly to the High Street and forming part of the main commercial core. The street comprises a mixture of traditional stone-built properties in retail, office, leisure and residential use. The subjects occupy a prominent position on Tulloch Street close to its junction with the main High Street within easy reach of all of the town services and public transport links. Major stores nearby include a Tesco supermarket, Lidl and Home Bargains. Other near-by occupiers include Bank of Scotland, Boots Pharmacy, Fone Fitness, Reynolds Architecture and the Puffin Pool Shop.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects comprise an attractive ground floor retail shop which has recently been fully refurbished and is presented in excellent condition. The shop is set within a wider 2-storey and attic terraced building of traditional stone construction under a pitched and slated roof. The upper floors are in residential use.

The shop is bright with 2 large double glazed shop front windows to the street allowing a high level of natural light into the space. The entrance is centrally set with double timber storm doors leading into a small vestibule and a further part glazed entrance door.

Internally, the accommodation provides a modern open plan sales area. Heating is provided via electric wall mounted panels and a high ceiling incorporates modern LED spot lighting. There is a side door off the sales area leading to a shared staff toilet.
